Remarks

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

Remarks upon the Bank of England, with regard more especially to our trade and government. Occasion'd by the present discourse concerning the intended prolongation of the bank. Humbly address'd to the honourable House of commons. By a merchant of London, and a true lover of our constitution. London, A. Baldwin, 1705.
4 p. l. iv, 5-31 p. 204^m.

In October 1890 (A. année) a new series was begun, with subtitle "Revue biblio-icongraphique" (A. année—2. série), comprising, in this form, only the "Gazette des ventes," with a supplement of separately paid price-lists replacing the "Relevé des prix d'adjudication." Supplemented in January 1897 (middle of "A. année") by a new, active series with title, "Revue biblio-icongraphique" (A. année, 1. année) issued monthly Jan. 1897-Apr. 1897.

A reply to the false reasoning in the "Age of reason." To which are added, some thoughts on idolatry; on the devil; and the origin of moral evil; on educating young men for the gospel ministry; and on what is "the word of God." All which refer, more or less, to opinions advanced in Thomas Paine's "Investigation of true and fabulous theology." By a layman. Philadelphia: Printed by Henry Tuckniss, for the author, and sold by the principal booksellers, 1796.

vi, 7-60 p. 16".
(Theological pamphlet, v. 8, no. 6.)
Inserted before the t. p. is a son, also stating the author's plan of writing and the fact that he had not seen the second part of the Age of reason when this pamphlet was written.
